

September Is Full Steam In Vegas

Labor Day marks the finale of the Vegas Pool Season as they will soon close just weeks after. The pools will be raging with people getting their last fix of fun in the sun and the nightclubs will be just as packed. As the summer comes to a close this September make sure to use Red Carpet to avoid waiting in line for hours as our host personally escort you into every venue. If you're not fully prepared for your next Vegas adventure, call us now and one of our concierges will be glad to guide you through all the best Vegas has to offer.
